NATIONAL DEER HEADQUARTERS ESTABLISHED AT MONETT

Will Be Moved From Spokane to Monett In January

The supreme offices of the Benevolent Order of Deer will be removed from Spokane, Wash., to Monett in January. This move is being made in order to get nearer to the center of the United States.

The choice seemed to rest between Monett and Springfield but the supreme officers have decided in favor of Monett and J. C. Gage, Supreme President, has notified the president of our Commercial Club that he will begin packing for shipment the books and paraphernalia of the office on January 1.

We understand that five supreme officers and office men with their families will come here from Spokane. The other employees and officers will be selected from among our own people.

C. L. Rallsback, who has been appointed organizer for the lodge is actively at work securing members and reports that he is having excellent success.

Everyone, who can do so, should help in making this movement a success.

SUCCESSFUL IN UNDERWOOD TEST

Marcellus Bougher won the honors in the Underwood 40 word contest at the high school this term.

The Underwood Typewriter Company gives a test of typewriting whereby the pupil is to write 40 words a minute for ten minutes. Each mistake is to count 5 off. Marcellus came out first in the test. He wrote at the rate of 44 words a minute.

Raymond Hagan failed by half a point and Van Feist by one point.

Miss Hattie Hoffman was the only successful one in last year's test.

William Thompson, of Washburn, died December 18 of heart trouble and complications. He was 65 years old.

Miss Anna Conrey has come home from Taylor's Business College at Springfield, to spend the holidays.

COLLEGE WAYS

"So your son's in college, eh? Burning the midnight oil, I s'pose?" "Well—er—yes; but I've an idea—er—that it's gasoline."

BUTTERFIELD

Mr. Crampton of Duenweg, was here last week looking after his interests on his farm.

A gentleman who owns a floor sweep factory near St. Louis, in company with Amos Gurley, of Purdy, was here Monday, but we did not learn the object of their visit.

We are informed that there is much interest being manifested in the revival meeting being conducted by Rev. Goodnight and others at Mt. Pleasant.

S. P. McCracken, wife and their children, of Monett, visited relatives near here a few days.

W. H. Henbest is another soul made happy by owning a little farm home, and in a few short years, when in all probability it will double in value, he will be still happier in the thought of his buying when prices and terms were so reasonable. "It's better to look ahead and prosper than to look back and regret."

As proof of the prosperous conditions existing in this locality; we point to the fact that there has been a greater volume of business done in the last year or so than ever before in the same length of time, and also to the fact that there are three saw mills within a radius of a very few miles of this place and all are unable to supply the demand for oak lumber for building purposes.

A salesman from Springfield assisted Gentrys with their cloak and suit sale Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

The strawberry accounts of Hervey Willard and Oscar Prier as published in last week's Republican are not altogether a fair showing of the growing of strawberries, as the total expense of production is deducted from the one crop of 1915, when in fact they will secure two more crops with little or no expense of cultivation and the second year's crop is usually the best. Some might think that a larger patch could not be made to show as large a per cent of profit as that of a small one, but Will Riddle claims a net profit of $1065.00 from five acres the past year, which is almost as good a showing as that made by the boys in the contest on smaller patches.

The only safe guide in judging a fellow by the noise he makes is a knowledge of the fact that that is the only means a rooster or a jackass has of bringing themselves into notice and expressing their opinion of themselves. Rev. Spurling of Berryville, Ark., preached at the Baptist church, Saturday and Sunday both forenoon and afternoon. He told on a former visit, of a girl receiving a prize on the following poem:

I am a girl from Arkansas
I can saw more wood than paw can saw
I can swim like a fish and do as I wish
I can chaw more tobacco than maw can chaw.

If some people lived in a pig pen
They would make it look like a parlor
If some others lived in a parlor
They would make it look like a pig pen.—Church House Janitor.

With reference to the possibilities of a bank being established at this place, the Cassville Democrat suggests that some good man that had the confidence of the people could come here and establish a bank and do a very good business. We were not aware that we were noticeably deficient along the lines thus mentioned. However, we will investigate and if we should find a greater per cent of the desired elements in our neighboring village, we will propose an exchange of a few strawberry growers to equalize matters. Or we might return the compliment by suggesting that if some good man could go to the aforesaid village and convince some of the speculative land owners that a one horse berry grower, if given a chance, will put more money into circulation in a few short years than they will in a life time. He will have gone a long way toward solving the perplexing problem of why they have not got the 500 acres of strawberries.
